

Before you read each book, look at the cover and the title. Think about what you expect from the book. After you read the book write down how it was different from what you expected.

Book I'm reading	What I expected	The Twist I didn't expect

Now that you've read several books with an unexpected twist, let's plan your own story.

What will be expected from my story:

How I will change the expectation: